The Senatorships.

It seems that, after all, Senator Cockerell is to have opposition; this is as it shoud be. We see no reason why the great seed distributor should hold a monopoly of the thing, neither do we believe it absolutely necessary average length of 365 days, 5 hours, both the governor and a United States senator. That Mr. Allen would make a better United States Senator than we do not know of any great thing which the present senator has done to entitle him to any claims upon the people of Missouri, or even upon the democratic party. We are not of the class who believe that the poorer the stick who is sent, the better, because it may disgust the people and help to make the state republican. But we would like to see the best men in the democratic party sent, as long as we must have a democrat, neither do we think it adds anything to the diguity of the state or to the party who sends him, to chose a man like Cockerell, who figured as a guerrilla and fought the Union soldiers as such during the war, a second time to the United States honor. The Difference Between Old Style and New.
